Tux additional information which we have ob sixed of the operations of the privateering or pira ical versals, Jeff. Davis and Sumter confirm the views which we expressed yesterday. Capt. FIFLED, of the brig John Weigh, captured by the privateer Jeff Davis, states that before his vessel was put in charge of a price master, the captors broke out the ship's steres and took eight months' provisions from her, leaving only enough to take the prize erew back with the vessel. In other words, the vessel was pillaged before her captors could know that she wan a legal prize.

So, in the case of the thip " Golden Rocket, ep'ared by the Sumter. The pirates finding hat she was almost worthless to them, an could not safely be sent into a southern port, rithout rick of recapture, on secount of the lenth of water which she drew, took from her what they desired and then set fire to her. It seems that the orders of the pirate commanders from Jawr. Davis & Co., is to steel all they can and to destrey what they cannot steel. This order is entirely consistent with the code adopted by the pirates and their leaders in their land operations The rebellion was intiated by men who violated every moral and social obligation, and made robbery the basis of their movement, and in prosecuting their dasigns they are true to their first principles. tofore, privateering has been confucted under sules as well defined as are the rules what is called "legitimate warfare" but it re mained for our southern rebels to reduce privateering to a level with the abborred system of piracy, which all civilized nations have agreed should be suppressed by the sternest measures

Suppose that the United States Government apply, in its land operations against the rebels, the pirate doctrine of robbery or destruction, what would become of the plants tions and other property of the secessionists Col. ALLEN has already been court-martialed for giving a kind of semi sanction to the burning of some fields of wheat belonging to a esionist who had taken up arms against the Government. Is there to be one law of warfare on the seas, and a different law o warfare against the property of our citizens in ships upon the sea?

Every citizen who loses property on the seas by the acts of JEFF DAVIS'S pirates will make claim against their Government, and it mus be recognized. How are they to be indemnifed? Certainly not by a tax on loyal citizens We must make those who sent out pirate crafts to depredate upon our peaceful commerce pay

Ir is reported from Washington that th protracted struggle for the office of the Sur vegor of the Port of New York, has been decided by the President throwing overboard the chief contestants, WAKEMAN and STAN-TOR, and naming Rurus F. Andraws for the place. This will be a great disappointment to Mr. WAKEMAN'S friends, who had calculated largely upon his success, and their own ap sent to lucrative offices in the Custon House. It will also cause increased bitternes among the Tribune clique who supported Mr no porticular note, apart from his notoriety as an active politician and lubbyist. He was for morty a Whig, and upon the disruption of the party, gave his sympathies to the "Krow Sothing" or American party. When it de climed, he joined the Republicano and worked sealously with them in the last Presidential convers. This "Know Nothing" antecedents lough they may not be more marked than these of his principal competitor-must de tract from the popularity of his appointment. The Administration would have done itself more credit, had it chosen for the responsible office of Serveyor, a man who had never mingled in the small intrigues of political cliques, and had never visited Albany as a political engineer. The office should have been swarded to some honest, intelligent, active business.

The News from Western Virginia. THE news from Western Virginia is of the most cheering character. The rebels have been ignominiously defeated, and the dispatches of Gen. McCLELLAS assure us that secessionism has been completely crushed out in that part of the "Old Dominion." McCLERLAN is a tump and his soldiers are heroes.

Proceedings in Congress The extra session of Congress is doing up the business for which it was called in a most expeditious manner. For this it will receive the thanks of the country. It has set an example which, we hope, will have a good effect in the future. Both Houses have manifested a most conservative spirit, and their votes and measures show that they have confined them selves to the simple object of arming the Executive branch of the Government with ample resources of men and money to crush the precent wicked rebellion. There have been wide diversities of opinion between the conservative and radical mem'ers of the Republican majori ty, but the conservatives have, in every is stance, prevailed-the old true democratic and whig elements always sustaining the conserva tives. The abolition extremists, and the miserable handful of secessionists, have, by their factious propositions, only exhibited their weakness and their disloyalty.

In the House, yesterday, an important bill, for the punishment of conspiracies to over throw the government, was passed by an almost unanimous vote. This bill will put an effectual stapes the operations of small traitors. A resolution was also passed pledging the House to grant any amount of men and money to suppress the present rebellion and restore the authority of the National Government in every part of the National terri ory. The thies are brightening, and under the present suspices we may look for peace before many months pass by.

A CHARGE OF THE UNION DEPENSE COM METTER STARVATION. - Some unprincipled heartless secundrel, bad enough to be a secensionist, caused to be circulated through some of the Sunday papers, the report that the Defense Committe see would commence paying out money yesterday morning to the wives and families of volunteers. Deluded by this false report a great throng of women gathered round the distributing office of the committee, No. 14 Fourth avenue, at an early hour, and fir some time patiently awaited its opening. At length they were informed by some person in the vicinity that it was without doubt hoax, and for correct information they were adviced to go to No. 36 Pine street, A ma jority followed this advice, but some diverged from the way to make a call at the Mayor's office, to the intense astenish who soon assured them that the Mayor was absent, and even if present could do nothing for them. From here also they were sent to the office of the Union Defense Committee in Pine street.

About eleven o'clock, the constantly increase ing Amezonian army took possession of the ante-room of the C.mmittee's headquarters. Some bore babes in their arms, their hungry children seeming to share their mothers' de spelring misery.
